Word of mouth

ON A HIGH NOTE

Hear this Latin music maestro SERGENT GARCIA has released his first album in five years. UNA Y OTRA VEZ (Time and Time Again) is another helping of his signature sound: salsa-meets-reggae-meets-Columbian-music. He calls it 'Salsomuffin'; we call it a sunshiney music for any occasion. 'Una y Otra Vez' is out now on GumGardista. One free track is downloadable at <http://on.it.ms/sergentgarciafreetrack>

Across the border and over the Line

USA Coinciding with the second-phase opening of New York's High Line Park is the launch of Mexican HôtelAmericano on West 27th Street. New York is missing a hotel with Latin spirit, says Carlos Couturier of hotel group Grupo Habita. Architect Enrique Norien has delivered a striking steel-mesh facade split by a glass lift shaft that shuttles guests between a street-level restaurant and the roof terrace with views of the Hudson. Inside, 56 rooms have Japanese platform beds, fireplaces and deep bathtubs. Look out for more to come from Habita, in Austin, La Paz, Tulum and Baja California. GUY DITTRICH Doubles from 155,325 (www.hotelamericano.com)

WHAT A FELINE!

Designer Alice Temperley has put her luxe-glam spin on a travel kit for beauty brand Elemis. The leopard-print case comes filled with travel-sized essentials, and a percentage from each sale goes to the Mothers4Children charity. £79, at department stores nationwide (www.elemis.com)
